Digital Signage is straightforward and efficient piece of software created to make it as easy as possible for users to design their very own signages. Signage refers to the design of signs and symbols in order to transmit a message to a specific group of people, usually for marketing reasons. With the help of this tool, users can create custom designs for sponsor advertisement, event schedule presentations, school dashboards, hospital/clinic patient information descriptions, building guest entry displays, and others. Simple and beginner-friendly signage creator The main advantage of Digital Signage is the fact that it is extremely easy to use. To get started, users simply need to download the installer, and follow the straightforward installation procedure. The app has no login procedure, hence users can start creating and delivering signage content in mere seconds. Upon first opening the app, users have the option of either starting a project from scratch, or selecting one of the few sample files. The app's main window is comprised out of a simple menu bar, the workspace (which takes up 90% of the GUI) and the floating tool menu. Allows users to customize their signages to a great extent From this menu, users can activate the full-screen mode, can switch between various pages, choose the active page backcolor, the sequence of change between pages, as well as to add various "controls." These include text, multi-line text, sliding text, sequence multi-text, rectangle, image, image sequence, video, YouTube video, web page, and map. These elements are highly customizable, and users can easily change anything from the text to the font size, style, background and foreground color, as well as the actual positioning of the text in question. To conclude, Digital Signage may not be the most eye-catching application out there, but what it lacks in looks, it more than makes up for in user-accessibility and sheer number of features.
